

Freedom of Information Request: Our Reference CTHB_428_18

You asked:

- 1) How many Consultant Paediatric Cardiologist jobs have been advertised in the UK in the last 5 years (or however many you can do; it doesn't have to be that many)
- 2) How many were filled?
- 3) How many were advertised with a named subspecialist interest?
- 4) How many just wanted a subspecialist interest to fit with the service
- 5) How many were general?... ie didn't ask for any subspecialty or were advertised as eg ward consultant jobs?

Our response:

The attached report contains details of vacancies published on NHS Jobs between 4 March 2014 and 21 October 2018 where:

The job title contains 'consultant' AND 'paediatric%' AND 'cardiolog%' (where % allows for variations such as cardiology/cardiologist for example)
OR

The job title contains 'consultant' AND either the specialty, department or area of work contains paediatric and cardiology (allowing for variations as above).

The date the vacancy first had an applicant marked as appointed is included, where this information is recorded on NHS Jobs.
