

Freedom of Information Request: Our Reference CTMUHB_289_23

You asked:

Specific to your Ophthalmology Department, what Electronic Patient Record software do you use in the Retinal Clinic for diabetes?

Our response:

We do not use an Electronic Patient Record (EPR) for the diabetic retinopathy clinic. We do not at present have an EPR in any retina clinics but the plan is to adopt OpenEyes soon. We currently use a combination of paper notes and CITO notes. So all paper-based at present.
